To make sense of our poker probability calculator's outputs and inner workings, we need to know the different hands you 3 might find in poker. So, here they are, described and ranked from best to worst below. When multiple hands of 3 the highest rank are present, the rank of the individual cards breaks these ties. Aces are usually ranked highest but 3 can form part of low sequences too (acting as a "1" instead) — we'd count both A-2-3-4-5 or 10-J-Q-K-A as 3 straights, but the former is 5-high, and the latter is ace-high.

Straight flush: Five cards of sequential ranks of the same 3 suit. The highest-ranked card breaks ties. An ace-high straight flush (i.e., A, K, Q, J, and 10, all of the 3 same suit) is famously called a royal flush and is the best possible hand. Four of a kind: Four cards 3 of the same rank and a remaining card of any rank. The quadruple-card's rank breaks ties. Full house: One triple 3 and one pair. Ties are broken by the triple's rank, then by the pair's rank. Flush: Five cards of the 3 same suit, but with no discernible order. Ties are broken by comparing the two highest cards, then the two second-highest 3 cards, etc. Straight: Five cards in sequential order, but not of one suit. The highest card in the straight breaks 3 ties. Three of a kind: Three cards with the same face. Ties are broken by those three cards' rank, and 3 then by the highest remaining cards in order. Two pair: Two separate pairs of faces. Ties are broken by the 3 best pair's rank, then the second-best pair's rank, then by the highest remaining cards in order. Pair ("one pair"): Only 3 one pair of faces. Ties are broken by this pair's rank and then by the highest remaining card. High card: 3 When no other hand can be formed, it's called a "high card", which refers to the best-ranked card in that 3 hand. Ties are broken as with flushes — first, compare the two high cards, then the two next highest ranks, 3 etc.

The poker equity calculator will tell you what the odds are that you'll eventually obtain a given hand, given the 3 cards you've been dealt initially.
